

Outdoor activities will occur, weather permitting.
11th annual Winter Wonderland at Wolf Lake festival, Saturday, Jan. 14., 2012

Environmental Education Center
2405 Calumet Avenue, Hammond

- 9 a.m.: Welcome by Dr. Dennis Nyberg, president, AWLI
9:05 a.m.: Visits to exhibits and displays and tour of building and trout stream by Lake County Solid Waste Management District. Exhibits include:
- Wolf Lake monitors by Dr. Young Choi
 - Volunteers for Wolf Lake watershed restorations, surveys
 - First Decade by AWLI
 - Development of bi-state management guide for the watershed
 - United Way of NWI by Chris Eller-Esparza
 - Native American artifacts by Les Marszalek
 - Tree maintenance by Jim DeHorn, Openlands Project
 - Amphibians and reptiles of the Calumet Region by Alan Resetar of the Field Museum of Natural History
 - Authors' Corner
 - Photo exhibit by Rod Sellers
 - Art and nature by Jim Milkowski of Wolf Lake Creations
- 9:15 a.m.: Trees of the Watershed by Jim DeHorn
9:30 a.m.: Cross-country skiing and skating (bring skates) by John Pastirik
9:30 a.m.: Birds of the Watershed by Walter Marcisz
10:00 a.m.: Poster contest winners honored
10:15 a.m.: Wolf Lake Watershed special places
11:00 a.m.: Underground Railroad by Jeannie Regan-Dinius
Noon: Lunch and transfer to Southeast Sportsmen's Club

Southeast Sportsmen's Club
13139 Avenue M, Chicago

- 12:30 p.m.: Ice skating/ice hockey, weather permitting, coordinated by John Pastirik (bring skates)
1 p.m.: Welcome by Dr. Dennis Nyberg, president, AWLI
1:05 p.m.: Visits to exhibits and displays:
- Wolf Lake monitors by Dr. Young Choi
 - Volunteers for Wolf Lake watershed restorations, surveys
 - First Decade by AWLI
 - Development of bi-state management guide for the watershed
 - United Way of NWI by Chris Eller-Esparza
 - Native American artifacts by Les Marszalek
 - Tree maintenance by Jim DeHorn, Openlands Project

--Amphibians and reptiles of the Calumet Region by Alan Resetar of the Field Museum of Natural History

-- Authors' Corner

--Art and nature exhibit by Jim Milkowski of Wolf Lake Creations

1:15 p.m.: Cross-country skiing by John Pastirik

1:15 p.m.: History of the Southeast Sportsmen's Club by Jerry Carter

1:25 p.m.: Underground Railroad by Jeannie Regan-Dinius

2:00 p.m.: Tree identification tour by Jim DeHorn, Openlands Project

2:30 p.m.: Ice safety class, demonstrations and Sellerski competition, weather permitting, by John Pastirik

3:00 p.m.: Wolf Lake Watershed special places

3:30 p.m.: Birds of the Watershed by Walter Marcisz

4 p.m.: Pizza by bonfire, coordinated by Mike and Dennis Brennan

AWLI is a bi-state not-for-profit organization and land trust dedicated to the protection and enhancement of the Wolf Lake watershed.